U. OF U. SEISMOGRAPH RECORDS MEXICAN EARTHQUAKE SHOCKS

Two carthquake shocks were recorded by the seismograph at the University of Utah, Thursday evening, the shocks becing due to the earthquake which occurred in Mexico. The first shock appeared about three or four hours before the second shock. It was bardly more than an earth tremor, simply causing the recording needle to be displaced about an eighth of an inch.

The tremor continued for about half an hour finally dryne out in as restle an hour, finally dying out in as gentle a manner as it had appeared. The secoud shock was the more violent of the two. The arc waves from the earth-quake reached the instrument first and caused the needle to vibrate gently to and fro as in the first case. This gen-tle oscillation continued for four minutes and ten seconds. Then the surface waves reached the instrument. Immediately the oscillations of the needle became extremely violent. The needle was displaced two inches, then three inches, and in the eight minutes it vibrated so violently that the needle failed to record except as it swung lightly over the smoked surface. For s period of at least one minute the vi-brations were so violent that no mark was made on the instrument. Following after this for a period of seventeen minutes the needle record shows that the earth was still under the effects of the earthquake. The record is extreme-ly regular so far as recorded, but the do not appear on the surface, as the needle vibrated far beyond the limits of the recording mechanism. Following the twenty-five minutes of violent vibrations the needle gradually came to rest. It required an interval of forty minutes before the last traces of the shock had disappeared.

shock had disappeared. The last shock affected the seismo-graph at the university for one hour and eighteen minutes. Dr. Fred J. Pack, head of the department of geology, has made a com-plete study of the record. He finds that the shock came along a north south line being just a little to one side of this direction. The general direction of the shock varied slightly to an east and west direction, but again returned to a north and south direction before it ceased.

The exact time at which the shock The exact time at which the shock arrived is not recorded, as the clock stopped, only part of its record being shown. The stopping of the clock was not due to the earthquake, however.

Eight vibrations occurred during a minute in the more violent portion of the earthquake. The record shows these wibrations to be extremely regular and symmetrical after the instrument was simily set in motion.

symmetrical after the instrument was finally set in motion.

Dr. Pack showed in a general way Priday afternoon that the earthquake shock as indicated by records must have been fully as violent as the San Francisco earthquake. Salt Lake City is as far from the City of Mexico as Washington is from San Francisco. In the case of the San Francisco earthquake, the instruments at Washington only recorded for a period of seventeen only recorded for a period of seventeen minutes. Not half of this interval was of a violent nature. The records at the local university show that the shock was violent for a period of twenty-five minutes and that it lasted four times as long as the Sun Tennical and the state of the same tennion as the sam as long as the San Francisco earth-

NEWS OF MANTI

Special to The Tribuns.

MANTI March 17.—A mass meeting of the farmers of Manti was held Monday evening to take steps against the going into effect of a grant of five second-feet of water from Manti creek to W. B. Livingston by the State engineer. This matter, together with the question of adjudicating the waters of Manti creek, was delegated to a committee of nine, to take immediate action. Farmers here have been considerably concerned about this matter, since the grant was made. Notwithstanding the fact that the petition of Mr. Livingston asks for only unappropriated waters, the farmers, after getting legal advice on the matter, think their rights are jeopardized.

CHINAMAN MURDERED IN STREETS OF NEW YORK

NEW YORK, March 27.—A street murder, which is believed to have been an outgrowth of recent trials of Chinamen for the murders in Boston and Philadelphia, threw the local Chinese quarter into intense excitement this after-

Ever since the successful prosecution of the Chinese murder trials in Boston and Philadelphia there have been rumors around Chinatown that some member of the New York colony had inspired the evidence which resulted in the convictions. When the shooting occurred today it became noised about that Mow was one of the men who had been under suspicion in this connec-

Mow was walking down Mott street when three Chinamen coming in the other direction blocked his way. There was a sharp, short argument, the flash and report of a shot, and as Mow col-lapsed and fell dead to the sidewalk the three assailants fled. Two of them whirled around into Pell street, while the third darted into a passageway and was swallowed up in the hivelike tenement houses which cover the block.

In the meantime Chinatown was in a panie of excitement, and it became necessary to call out a big detail of ex-tra police before anything like order could be restored. A line of police was stretched around the entire district and a house to house search for the mur-derers was made. As a result of this search, Moy Don Yuk and Wan You, both of whom live in Mott street, were taken into custody.

ADMIRAL DEWEY MAY NOT WELCOME FLEET

WASHINGTON, March 27.—Admiral Dewey, it is understood, practically has decided not to go to the Pacific coast to participate in the welcome to the Atlantic battleship fleet when it reaches San Francisco. He has so informed his intimate friends and until he sees some good reason for changing his present intention will adhere to this decision. Admiral Dewey declines to make any statement concerning his intentions, on the ground that whatever reply he may give to the invitations should be sent to those who have urged him to attend the festivities incident to the arrival

The admiral would like to go to California, and bas repeatedly so indicated to those who have talked with him about the matter, but there are considerations of a personal nature which make him hesitate to take the trip. Incident to it is the long railroad ride back and forth, beside the nightly banguers and innumerable other record do quets and innumerable other social de-mands that would be made upon him, all of which would prove fatiguing and all of which would prove fatiguing and exhausting.

Looking ahead, the admiral's friends express the hope that he will, with President Raosevelt, be on hand to welcome the fleet on its return home in New York on February 22 of next year, the date tentatively fixed by the President.

When the honeymoon days are over, what is more natural for the prudent young couple than to think of their own home? A mated man and woman yearn for the seclusion of their own fire-side and their own home. Boarding, living with parents, or dwelling in a rented flat or house is all right when it is preparatory to getting one's own home. No matter how humble, no matter how small, there is a fascination about ownership.

And then there is the other side to be thought of. Ownership is cheaper than paying rent: Through building associations and the accommodation of banks it is possible for people to buy homes and pay very little more than rent.

Every day in the columns of THE TRIBUNE are advertised places where young people may go, where they may, figuratively speaking, pitch their fent, dwell in happiness, and become tax payers and citizens of their city.
